

Wildflower Tour

What a beautiful day spent in the sun exploring wildflowers within the Nungarin Shire.

The tour commenced at the CRC building, where we met the lovely group whom we'd accompany for the duration of the day.

With plenty of water we ventured to Talgomine reserve, discovering carpets of pinks, blues and yellows scattered throughout the bush land! We stopped by the 5 roads to be amazed with an abundance of Foxglove and Damperia.

Danberrin was next, the roads were quite tricky to navigate through, but we made it to the everlastings with a lovely westerly view. It was time to refuel, Wegner's Rural prepared a lovely range of meals for our group from fish and chips to schnitzels and salad which we enjoyed, seated in the sunshine.

After a rest we headed north visiting Karomin Rock, viewing the well and wildflowers. This was where the tour group experienced the strong scent of the vanilla bush for the first time!

We stopped by Mangowine where Bob greeted us and provided a tour of the homestead, everyone enjoyed the cellar as it was one way to escape the heat!!

We concluded the tour after roaming the caves along the lakes edge at Eaglestone Rock. The large granite rock is surrounded by an array of white, pink and blue flowers. Perfect for photo opportunities.

Thankyou to our tour group it was a pleasure to tour you around Nungarin for the day, to Steve for driving us around for the 6 hours, and to Wegner's Rural for preparing the tasty meals.

CWA Health day

Earlier this month the CWA hosted a health day focusing on mental health and emotional well being. There was an amazing turn out of over 40 people!

Thank you to Kaye and her 3 guest speakers for delivering such inspiring talks and stories.

The event was interactive and informative reminding the audience mental health is not the individuals fault and help is always available.

The CWA ladies put on a tasty lunch providing options of soups and an assortment of sandwiches

It was nice to attend this event as it was beneficial & provided an insight into what the day was all about. Definitely an event I'd recommend to others in the future.
